Private Label Specialists

YOU DESERVE TO BE THE HERO

Your patients trust you.

In the world of online consumer culture, skincare has become a wild-west of flashy marketing and corner cutting in formulation and design – and the general consumer is more educated than ever when it comes to what truly clean and effective skincare means. More often than not, providers are forced to compete brands that offer half-baked formulations at prices impossible to compete with. This is no longer the case.

Induction Therapies is dedicated to making you the authority figure of your skincare line with the lowest MOQ's, opportunities to grow your business with monthly specials, sample opportunities and a streamlined Private Label Process that will see your skincare line launched in 10 days from design approval.

Building a skincare brand has truly never been easier.
